

Name	Award	Details	How to Apply
McCourt Scholars	full tuition, mandatory fees, a stipend, and health insurance	The McCourt Scholars are a select group of promising future policy makers and scholars whose background, experience, and academic excellence qualify them for this prestigious award. Each year, five incoming students are nominated as McCourt Scholars based on the strength of their applications to the McCourt School.	All full-time MPP, MPM, MIDP, and MS-DSPP who apply by the December 1 or January 15 deadline are eligible to be considered for the McCourt Scholars program. Although no additional application is required, candidates in consideration for the McCourt Scholarship will be contacted and interviewed by a selection committee.
Merit Based Scholarships	Varies	The McCourt School offers merit-based scholarship funding. All MPP, MPM, MIDP, and MS-DSPP admitted students (including part-time students) are eligible to be considered for merit-based assistance as long as they submit their application by the Early Action (December 1) or Priority (January 15) deadlines.	Awards are based on a candidate's grades, test scores, professional and lived experience, community service/volunteerism, and overall strength of application.